PLANS GO FORWARD FOR BIG LABOR DAY CELEBRATION HERE

Maysville Unions Propose to Give Maysville the Biggest and Best Labor Day in Its History on Next Monday—Grand Parade is Being Planned For.

It was announced a few days ago that the labor organizations of the city of Maysville were planning to take complete charge this year of the celebration of Labor Day in Maysville and since that announcement plans have been rapidly taking form for the day.

A large committee having representatives from every labor organization in the city in its membership, is completing all arrangements and they will hold their final meeting on Friday evening when everything will be ready for announcement and the plans laid down by this large committee will be very carefully carried out in detail.

Although all of the plans are not known, it is known that the two big features of the day will be a great union demonstration in the form of a parade having practically every union man and woman in the line of march and headed by the famous Maysville Boys' Band and the other big feature will be a big party given at Beechwood park to close at 5 o'clock in the afternoon with a great dinner for all union men and their families.

The parade will form at the Court House at 2 o'clock and move to Beechwood Park and it appears that this parade will be the first big demonstration of the numerical strength of the Maysville unions, the carpenters, barbers, cigar makers, clerks, bricklayers and all other unions being represented.

At Beechwood beginning at 3:30 o'clock there will be several addresses on the Labor question, the chief addresses being made by Judge H. P. Purcell, Mayor Thomas M. Russell and Hon. H. C. Curran.

In the evening there will be a big dance given by a local dancing club at Beechwood which promises to be the biggest dance of the year.

APPEAL TO WIPE OUT ILLITERACY TO BE MADE

Superintendent of the City Schools of Frankfort, Instructor at Teachers' Institute Will Speak to Masons on Illiteracy Thursday Afternoon.

Supt. Caplinger Makes Statement in Answer to Many Queries in Regard to Water For Schools.

Prof. W. J. Caplinger, Superintendent of the Maysville City Schools, this afternoon issued this statement:

I presume that the water supply of this city has been discussed to the entire satisfaction of most people, however as several patrons have been asking me, over the phone and otherwise, "What are the schools going to do about the water?" I feel that the most satisfactory way to answer this question is by making the following statement.

The Board of Education is making all effort to have the school buildings sanitary in every respect that comes within their province. Every building is being thoroughly cleaned with plenty of good soap and water, treated with disinfectants, and after this is done all rooms, halls, and basements will be fumigated with formaldehyde candles, then on Sunday a Committee of the Board of Education and myself will make a formal inspection of all the buildings. To be sure, I have been making these inspections almost daily during the past two weeks.

The filter that was installed in the High School building is being cleaned and put in good working order, however this machine is not intended to make the water chemically pure. Captain Harrub of the U. S. Naval Engineering Corps told me after inspecting this filter that the Chlorinator belonging to the Water Company is ample protection as a germicide whenever it is in operation. His report indicates that the continuity of its operation is not very reliable.

After the above statement of facts as I have gleaned them, I shall endeavor to answer the question, "What are the schools going to do about the water?" Had the Board of Education about $2,000 at its command it could install small filtration plants in each building. This, however, would not benefit 80 per cent of the children as they drink the city water without boiling or other home treatment, the major part of the time. It would be of help, I will admit, to those pupils whose parents have enforced strict rules in the home, that the children drink nothing but boiled water.

I am unable to say what the Board of Education may do in this matter when it meets officially, yet when we know that the schools are receiving less money for their operation than they did two years ago, despite the fact that things have increased greatly, I don't see how a Board can find the money to install private filtration plants, besides it would be a needless expense since our City Council will solve the problem in the near future.

Unless the Board of Education advises me otherwise, I shall instruct all teachers, next Monday, at our pre-emptary teachers' meeting to see that all pupils that care to, may have a safe and convenient depository for any bottles of boiled water that they may care to bring. Those families who are in the habit of supplying water of this character to their children will find this no especially burdensome task.

After the meeting of the Board on Thursday night, should there be any further statements to the public necessary, it will be given out in Saturday or Monday's paper.

MANY SEE AIRSHIP PASS OVER MAYSVILLE

The government airship which was expected to pass over Maysville Tuesday morning disappointed quite a number of people who had been craning their necks most all morning for a glimpse of the big bird but at about 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning the ship of the air appeared in view and at a very high altitude swept over Maysville. The plane followed the L. & N. railroad into Maysville from Lexington and followed the Germantown road from this city to Germantown where it will remain for the balance of the week. As the ship passed over Maysville it was so very high as to resemble a huge bird.

SEVERAL AUTOMOBILE OWNERS RAID TO HAVE BEEN STUNG

It is reported that there was the usual number of fakirs along with John Robinson's circus which exhibited here Tuesday and that they did an overflow business as usual. Probably those who made the biggest hauls were a couple of men who claimed to have been representative of the government in collecting license fees for automobiles used to haul passengers. It is understood that these men were lucky enough to get $6.00, the amount of the license fee, out of several auto drivers.

PEOPLE ANXIOUSLY AWAIT MEETING OF GRAND JURY

Public Anxious to Learn Whether Mason County Grand Jury Meeting Next Monday Will Go Into Food Prices and Water Conditions in Maysville and Mason County.

On next Monday the September Grand Jury for Mason county will meet at the Court House to begin an investigation of conditions throughout the county for the past three months and while there are very few criminal cases to come up from the lower courts for their investigation, it is expected that they will find plenty to occupy their time and attention.

Whether the Grand Jury will investigate the High Cost of Living in this county as many Grand Juries throughout the nation are doing at this time and whether or not the big city water question will come up for their consideration, are the most discussed questions about Maysville at the present time. These two questions are having the greatest amount of attention from the general public now and it is expected that the Grand Jury too will be interested.

It is pointed out by some that conditions on the farms are not now calling the farmers to rush work and therefore there is a likelihood of a long Grand Jury session if come before them.

LOCAL POLICE SEARCH FOR ROBBER OF VANCEBURG HOME

The Maysville police department was notified by telephone Tuesday night of a robbery that evening at the residence of I. K. Kline, who lives just west of Vanceburg. The residence was broken into and a suit of clothes, a pair of shoes and a ladies' gold watch were stolen. The police searched here for a man answering the description of the robber but were unable to find such a person.

A number of the prominent business men of West Union, Adams county, Ohio, were here Tuesday to attend the big circus and took occasion to boost their fair soon to be held and at which the Maysville Boys' Band will furnish music. This fair will be one of the biggest and best in this section of the country and many Maysville and Mason county people will attend.

BLACK NAMES MONDAY AS LABOR DAY IN PROCLAMATION

Governor Calls Upon People of Kentucky to Celebrate Next Monday

As Holiday in Honor of Labor.

Mr. Clark Busby, well known young East End grocer, today closed a deal whereby he purchased the stock of the M. P. Redmond grocery at the corner of Third and Limestone streets and obtained lease on the building.

An inventory of the stock is being taken this afternoon and the change in ownership will take place just as soon as the inventory is completed.

The proclamation follows:

"Labor is a dignifying and enabling thing. Self-respect makes labor obligatory. Industry is an index of character. The pick and shovel, the hammer and anvil, the hoe and plow, are Democracy's emblems of worth and merit.

"No nation ever becomes powerful or prosperous save through the efforts of the intelligent toiler. America is the great exemplar among the nations of that fact. In mine and on railroad, on farm and in shop, has been built a nation pulsant and prosperous, by the ingenuity of American brains and the industry of American hands. And it is a hope whose realization all may share, that our industrial system, the pulse of which is often disturbed by the conflicting interests of its component parts, may soon be furnished with that happy solution of its perplexities which will inaugurate and perpetuate between the laborer and his employer, a mutual spirit of peace, satisfaction and contentment.

"In recognition of the custom, now of national importance and observance, in honor of labor, I, James D. Black, Governor of Kentucky, do hereby proclaim and designate Monday, September 1, 1919, as Labor Day, in this Commonwealth, and respectfully request all citizens to assist in its appropriate celebration.

"Done at the Executive Office, this August 25, 1919.

"Witness my hand and the seal of the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

"JAMES D. BLACK, Governor.

"JAMES P. LEWIS, Secretary of State."

MASON FARMERS ORGANIZE

It has been said that through co-operation and organization anything could be accomplished and another has said that there were but three classes of people who did not have sense enough to organize and they were the farmers, the school teachers and the lunatics. The old joke will have to be revised however, for both the farmers and the school teachers of the state of Kentucky have realized that they must organize.

The spirit of co-operation through organization has reached the farmers of Mason county and on Saturday the Mason County Farm Bureau was born. The babe is a lusty youngster with a great future and the Public Ledger predicts for it rapid growth and development and a long and useful life. Next will come the teachers. As far as lunatics are concerned—there are always a few of those in every organization.

Farmers have attempted many organizations and the majority of them have been flat failures for they were based on prejudices but the organization put on its feet in Mason county Saturday is prompted by no prejudices and is purely for the betterment of the farm and the farmer, including his wife and children. This organization is not a labor organization; it is not a fraternal order but a co-operative movement which will prove of great benefit to the farmer and his city neighbor as well.

MAYSVILLE LOSES A LIVE WIRE

Mr. Carl Dodds, Secretary of the Maysville Chamber of Commerce, left Maysville Tuesday for Northampton, Mass., where he becomes Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of that city and in his going Maysville loses one of the liveliest young men this city has had in years.

In every civic enterprise Carl Dodds was found ready and willing to take a part and usually the hardest part. Of course, that was his business but he didn't do it as a task, he always did it as a pleasure and that's what made him worth while to Maysville. He was one of the best boosters the city has ever had and we are going to miss him. His real worth to our city was probably not realized but we will begin to feel it today. He will always be kindly remembered by the people of this city, not only the business men with whom he worked but with all for he was not a single barrel man. He was not too engrossed in business affairs to look to the religious and the social and give both their due place in his life.

It is to be hoped that the Directors of the Maysville Chamber of Commerce will soon elect a successor and that in the selection of this man they will consider virtues such as the man who is leaving had, that they will consider him as a community leader who measures up in all respects.

WENDLING USES ATTIC AS A PLACE IN WHICH TO HIDE

Famous Criminal Who Escaped State Penitentiary at Frankfort Tells Of His Experiences.

Frankfort, Ky., August 25.—Confessing his plans to escape, Joseph Wendling, the slayer of little Alma Kelner, of Louisville, today told Warden Pythian that he had hid most of the time while trying to escape from Franklin county in the attic of the old statehouse, two squares from the penitentiary.

While posses of men searched the county for him he enjoyed life with the aid of an electric fan. Wendling stole this fan from the prison.

An inspection of the attic disclosed a wig, a mask, a woman's dress and raincoat, bottles of beer, food and other articles.

There was a basket of women's clothing, which Wendling had stolen from a laundress named Eliza Russell. All these things Wendling had intended to put into use when he had completed his female attire in which he planned to escape. Having wandered around the city unmolested for two nights, Wendling planned to forage one night and then make his getaway, but his carelessness in not resorting to his female attire led to his arrest.

Wendling is in stripes today. He will have to go through the same period of probation as any new man entering the prison. He will be ordered to work in the shops tomorrow at whatever place the contractor may need him.

While posses of men searched the county for him he enjoyed life with the aid of an electric fan. Wendling stole this fan from the prison.

Give Me a Friendly, Natural Hand-shake

an' a friendly natural tobacco. Keep yo' put-on airs an' "sauced-up" tobaccos for the fellow that likes nut sundaes better than home made pie—

So says a friend of ours named Velvet Joe. And he just about hits the nail on the head.

Velvet is made for men who think there's no smoke like real tobacco. If you are that sort of man, listen:

Velvet was born in old Kentucky, where more than one good thing comes from. It was raised as carefully as any other Kentucky thoroughbred. But the real secret of Velvet's friendly qualities is its slow natural ageing in wooden hogsheads. Ageing in the wood never hurt anything—and least of all, tobacco.

And so we say, Velvet is good tobacco—nothing more or less. It runs second to none.

The picture of the pipe on the tin needn't keep you from rolling a jim-dandy cigarette with Velvet.

RAILWAY LABOR MOVE ASSAILED

New York World, Strong Wilson Supporter, Denounces "Revolution
by Ultimatum."

PARALLEL TO RUSSIAN IDEA.

Calls Railroad Brotherhoods' Plan for Government Ownership "Soviet Economics Venture."

New York.—The New York World, in a leading editorial, characterizes the railroad labor plan for Government ownership of railroads as "a straight-out adventure into Soviet economics." The editorial page of the World has long had a national reputation for undeviating support of Democratic principles, hostility to Wall street, and the most loyal and vigorous assistance to President Wilson. The World says:

"Revolution by Ultimatum."

The plan of the railroad brotherhoods for taking over the railroad properties of the country is a straight-out adventure into Soviet economics. It contemplates collective ownership, but class operation and control, which is at the foundation of the Soviet system.

The American people, through their Government, are to buy the railroads from the private owners and turn these properties over to the railroad employees to manage and operate. In consideration of an investment of approximately $20,000,000,000 the Government is to appoint one-third of the directors, and the public is to share in such savings in the cost of operation as may remain after the employees have paid themselves what they think their services ought to be worth.

The spirit in which the program is put forth may be inferred from a statement made by B. M. Jewell, acting president of the railroad employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, in which he said that if President Wilson's suggestion to Congress was carried out "we will tie up the railroads so tight that they will never run again if that legislation is passed." It might have been Trotsky himself speaking to a housewife that had offered fluid and academic objections to being despoiled.

Who is the Government?

Before any railroad plan can be worked out one highly essential fact must be established—namely, whether the sovereign power of the United States is vested in Government and in the American people or whether it is vested in the railroad brotherhoods.

For three years now the brotherhoods have assumed that the sovereign power was vested in them, and Congress has provided them with excellent reasons for that assumption. When the railroad employees in the critical period of the summer of 1916 demanded an eight-hour day and threatened a general strike, President Wilson sent a message to Congress in which he urged that the eight-hour day he made the basis of work and wages, but he made four other provisions, one of which called for—

"An amendment to the existing Federal statute which provides for the mediation, conciliation and arbitration of such controversies as the present by adding to it a provision that in case the methods of accommodation now provided for should fail, a full public investigation of the merits of every such dispute should be instituted and completed before a strike or lockout may be lawfully attempted."

Try to Intimidate Congress.

Congress refused to enact this legislation because the labor leaders objected to it, and now we have a situation in which a labor leader can threaten to "tie up the railroads so tight that they will never run again" if Congress presumes to pass an act to which the brotherhoods' autocracy objects as unequal to its imperative demands.

The railroad brotherhoods have embarked upon a policy that even the most conservative of them must admit is economically revolutionary. If their scheme of nationalization under class control is to be carried out in respect to railroads, nobody can draw the line where it shall stop until all industry is under Soviet direction. Yet they are not putting their program out as a matter to be discussed and deliberated to the treaty. If you add to all this dissatisfaction, the bitter dissatisfaction of Germany, the people of Austria and Hungary, the treaty which we are asked to underwrite and maintain has arrayed against it at this time the sentiment and vehemence protest of far more than one-half of the people of the globe.

SUBJECT PEOPLES HIT BY TREATY AND LEAGUE

"Never was a more perilous situation presented for the consideration of a nation. It is the conviction of some of us that if we do what we have proposed, sorrow and suffering are ahead of the American people." It is a greater load than we can carry, and yet there are those who are hastening to enter this uncharted sea. I would not feel justified in discussing these facts if it were not that as I view it this covenant makes them of prime concern to us. The task of underwriting the the treaty itself with reference to the powers against whom we were at war would be a considerable task, but when we find that the peoples who were represented either directly or indirectly, the subject nationalities upon the side of the Allies constituting nearly one-half of the population of the earth, are in protest now before the treaty is ratified, it presents, to my mind, the most serious proposition with which we have had to deal as a practical fact at this time.

"I do not include in the list," he says, "the nations with whom we were at war. I refer only to the people who are subject to the domination or control of the allied powers. We are hearing the expression of protest in different ways of millions who were represented in the war on their side. Much of this comes to us belated, long suppressed, some of it carried to this country by the representatives of the protesting people. The Chinese are in open protest against the treaty. The Koreans, the Egyptians, large portions of the people of India, the people of Ireland, all asking in some way to be released from the terms of this treaty or objecting to its provisions. In some of these countries open revolution is being carried on. War is already in progress to compel them to submit

There are the Chinese, some 400,000,000, the Koreans, the Egyptians, the people of Ireland, and of the list of subject nationalities, practically all have in some form registered a protest against present settlements."

WILL MAKE PLANS HERE FOR RURAL SURVEY

Church Workers of This Section of State to Hold Conference in Maysville on Wednesday.

The Inter-Church World Movement of North America will attempt to make a rural survey of the state of Kentucky this fall. The church workers in each county will be asked to give some time in securing the data desired. Different maps of the counties will be made which will show where and how successfully the church work is being done in each county.

To prepare for such a survey in this section of the state, a conference of the leaders of church work in Robertson, Lewis, Fleming and Mason counties will be held in Maysville on next Wednesday, September 3 from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. The meeting will likely be held in the First Presbyterian Church and will be in charge of Arthur O. Stockbridge, a rural survey leader from Louisville. The purpose of this survey is to help all churches do their work more successfully.

TEACHERS HEAR MANY DISCUSSIONS ON THE THIRD DAY

Prof. S. L. Turnipseed Second Instructor, Arrives and Gives Very Interesting Talks.

(By R. Y. Maxey)

Excitement due to the circus yesterday was apparently too tense on teachers nerves since punctuality was badly punctured this morning.

With a total of 39,449 deaths reported in the State for the year, Kentucky has a death rate of 16.4 per 1,000 population, which is 2.6 per 1,000 higher than for any previous registration year.

The total deaths from influenza and pneumonia for the year were 12,677. Of this number, 8,699 were from influenza and 3,978 from pneumonia. The combined death rate for those two diseases was 5.3 per 1,000 population.

An index to what can be accomplished by consistent and concerted action on the part of health agencies, the report shows that the death rate for tuberculosis during 1918 is 193.5, while that for 1911, the first year of registration, was 225.6. Also, the typhoid rate shows a continued and gradual decline since 1911.

The bulletin states it is probable that we will have opportunity to observe further serious results of the influenza epidemic, as the weakened and lowered resistance which is an aftermath renders one particularly susceptible to tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

Mr. Glinsborg was fined $13.90 in Pottico Court today when he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of passing a stopped street car in his automobile.

Miss Florence Knight Taubbee, is in Sharpsburg for the week, visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Eva Knight and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. James Walton, of Pittsburgh, Pa., are the pleasant guests of Mrs. Walton's mother, Mrs. John Hayes, of Fourth street.

Prof. S. L. Turnipseed in the Lancaster Industrial School, handling in a splendid address, the Laggard, showing specimens of the work done by boys in the Industrial School at Lancaster, Ohio. There are laggards largely because the teacher has no means of compelling the indifferent and obstreperous pupils. Enforcement of compulsory school attendance law is not stringent enough.

Following Prof. Turnipseed's timely address, Miss Alice Lloyd asked some very pertinent questions as to qualifications of teachers in Prof. Turnipseed's school, adding that she understood the teachers in our Reform School were not required to hold certificates.

Prof. Turnipseed replied that the teachers in the Lancaster Industrial School must be certified.

Good spirit and enthusiasm prevails in the Institute.

Wednesday Afternoon

The County Illiteracy Field Worker and Truant Officer, Mrs. J. B. Ross was before the Institute in a ringing plea for the stamping out of illiteracy in Mason county. She also asserted that the truancy work would be zealously looked after by her. Mrs. Ross sounds a most hopeful note.

Mrs. Dr. Reynolds, Carlisle, Ky., representative of the Red Cross organization was before the Institute in behalf of the Junior Red Cross.

Instructor Ireland and Prof. John Hurst Adams then made the War Loan Organization call. Pledge cards were passed. This call met a hundred per cent response. This appeal is the only one out of the nine made thus far that has been accorded such support. This hearty co-operation may be accounted for through the fact that the teacher sees that this undertaking is immediately correlated with her regular class work and results in economic upbuilding in the life of the individual and community she is serving.

Prof. S. L. Turnipseed is before the Institute in a forceful and beneficial address on Measuring the Efficiency of the Teacher as the Ledger goes to press.

COLORED METHODISTS IN A BIG REVIVAL

Evangelistic Campaign Among Colored Methodist Churches Under Management of Local Pastor.

The Rev. I. Garland Penn, Jr., pastor of Scott M. E. Church is honored again having been selected to manage the Evangelistic Campaign which will take place over the Cincinnati-Maysville District. It will be remembered that a few months ago he was chosen as chairman of the Centenary Drive in this district to raise $45,000 and there was raised $56,888.34 in cash and subscriptions. After the Financial Drive was over he was put in the field work of advertising the Centenary Exposition visiting cities in the West and North. When the Centenary Exposition opened at Columbus he was called there to take charge of the twenty-three colored quartettes from the schools in the South supported by the Methodist church and Methodist Church, South.

Under the leadership of Rev. Penn the church parsonage has been renovated and painted and repairs are now being made on the church. The Sunday school room when completed will be among the best equipped places to hold a modern Sunday school in the city.

Rev. Penn is the youngest minister in the Lexington Conference and about the youngest minister that has ever pastored a church in this city yet he has proven to the people both here and afar that he knows how to bring things to pass.

The Evangelistic Campaign begins August 29 at Augusta, Ky., and will last until every charge on the district has been visited by the District Superintendent Dr. H. A. Forman and three other ministers thus making up the team.

The dates are as follows: Augusta 29-31, Dover September 1-3, Washington, September 4-5, Maysville 7-9, Portsmouth 10-16, Flemingsburg 17-21, Northfolk 22-23, Sherburne 22-23, Sharpsburg, 25-26, Mt. It is understood that such men as Dr. R. F. Smith of Park Street Methodist Church, Cincinnati, and Dr. J. H. Ross of Covington will be among the number, who will deliver gospel messages to the people over the district.

DOES NOT FEAR 'FLU' OUTBREAKS

Cincinnati, August 27.—Recurrence of influenza in epidemic form this fall is unlikely, said Health Officer William H. Peters, of Cincinnati, Monday, taking issue with Dr. Royal S. Sopeland, New York health commissioner. The State and nation has been "pretty well immunized by the disease last fall and winter," said Dr. Peters. Epidemics of such character as a rule do not strike twice in the same place, he said.

"Of course there will be instances of influenza, the same as we have had every year," he continued, "but I do not anticipate a recurrence of the disease in epidemic form."

"Our mortality rate may be highest winter since many persons whose resistance has been lowered may succumb to other causes more readily."

CARNIVAL DID NOT PAY LICENSE FEE

The Flemingsburg Gazette says:

Saturday Littlejohn's carnival company which was showing at the Ewing Fair was fined $100 and was called on to pay about $50 additional license for operating various games, shows, etc., which it had not paid for in taking out licenses a day or so previous at the beginning of the Fair. The games in operation were said to be practically gambling schemes such as have been common at street fairs and carnivals as they go. The last carnival company here it will be remembered was fined for operating such games.
